

The diagram illustrates the recursive definition of a function f_k . It shows a sequence of vertical lines representing steps. The first line has three red horizontal bars, with a bracket and k indicating the number of bars. This is followed by an equals sign, then f_{k-1} followed by a vertical line, a dotted line, another vertical line, a plus sign, f_k followed by a vertical line, and finally a single red horizontal bar.